Take a closer look at the English Campus

Over 5,000 activities and 60 pre-built courses

"We pride ourselves on providing tailor-made courses and the wealth of resources on Macmillan English Campus means that there really is something for everyone."

Kate Roussel, Fluency Formation, France

Covering every language level from elementary to advanced, the English Campus offers activities to practise the full range of skills, listening, reading, writing and speaking as well as vocabulary, pronunciation and grammar. Our latest teacher–marked writing and speaking activities now allow you to extend your students' productive skills practice even further.

Get started with our range of ready-to-use courses or explore our extensive database of activities to create your own tailor-made learning experience. From real-work business English activities to preparation exercises for Cambridge English, IELTS, TOEFL® and TOEIC® exams, the English Campus is fully adaptable to suit your teaching needs.

Choose from over 30 pre-built tests and 1,000 activities for customizable tests to check your students' progress. Student scores are sent directly to you as soon as they've clicked submit.

Our Placement Test helps ensure your students are always learning at the right pace. All the activities are automatically marked and mapped to CEFR, Cambridge English and ALTE levels, so you can see exactly where your students are in their development.

FOR STUDENTS

The English Campus offers your students a flexible learning environment personalized for their individual needs. On the go, at work or in the classroom, students can easily access all their course materials and keep track of their progress as soon as they log in.

And with our searchable bank of activities, finding engaging materials to boost their language development is easy — all it takes is a single click. Whether they want functional language practice on everyday topics, or need a bit of last minute revision, the English Campus provides them with the tools to support their learning.

FOR TFACHERS

With automatic marking, easy-to-use course-building tools and high quality activities you can trust, the English Campus allows you to free up your time so you can focus on the important task of teaching and leave the rest to us.

See all your students' scores in one place and manage feedback directly through the platform. Our tools allow you to send bookmarks, word lists, links and files to your students so it's easy to give them that extra support.

For your own professional development, you'll find a methodology library plus an extensive Support Centre on our site for training and teaching tips to help inspire you along the way.

FOR INSTITUTIONS

Implementing the English Campus as part of your teaching programmes enables you to expand your offering as an institution and cater to a wider audience of students. From corporate clients to teenage students preparing for university, the English Campus helps prepare you for teaching in and beyond the digital classroom.

Our range of pre-built courses makes it easy to integrate the English Campus into your existing syllabus – and with activities dedicated to business English, English for academic purposes as well as general English, we've made sure to cover all the bases. What's more, with institutional access to usage statistics, it's simple to share these figures with parents or companies you work with.

All our materials come with the quality guarantee of Macmillan Education and are supported by a team with over 10 years of expertise in blended learning. So, when it comes to choosing a new learning solution, we're here to help make the transition as easy as possible and provide your teachers with the training they need.

"The English Campus gave teachers a great opportunity to make their jobs easier and professionally innovative."

How it works for you

As a flexible blended learning solution, Macmillan English Campus is used by institutions all around the world to suit a variety of different teaching situations.

Take a look at how private language schools like ILS International Language School have been using the English Campus to offer language training for working professionals.

CASE STUDY

IN COMPANY AND PRIVATE LANGUAGE SCHOOL: ILS INTERNATIONAL LANGUAGE SCHOOL, ITALY

Peter Luntz, EFL Programme Coordinator

Tell us a bit about you and your institution.

ILS International Language School is a private language school in Milan, Italy. We focus on corporate language training for a variety of languages. We hold lessons both at our school and in company.

How do you use Macmillan English Campus?

We use Campus in conjunction with face-to-face courses in blended learning programmes. Some courses follow a more structured programme using Macmillan coursebooks to allow for maximum face-to-face and online integration. Others are assigned an online programme that is appropriate for their level. We generally give students 3, 6 or 9 months access. It is useful to have their Campus access finish a month or two after their face-to-face lessons: this gives students a chance to review and continue contact with the language.

How has Macmillan English Campus helped your institution, your teachers and your students?

It has been a good way to modernize our course. It satisfies requirements by some companies for blended courses that must have an online component. It is easy to use for teachers and requires little effort on their part as teachers are often very busy. Students can have nearly endless possibilities for extra language practice outside the classroom.

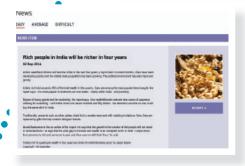

Integrate learning into busy working lives and set activities and progress tests accessible anywhere, anytime.

Keep in touch with students constantly on the move through our internal messaging service.

Help students stay topical with weekly news items from the Guardian available at easy, average and difficult.

Build on productive language skills outside of the classroom with the ability to give teacher feedback on speaking and writing activities through the English Campus.

How it works for you

For universities offering language courses, finding high quality materials tailored to academic life is essential. That's why our EAP courses are authored by university lecturers and EAP specialists from leading institutions in the UK, including University College London, London School of Economics and Durham University.

Read how Universidad Latinoamericana has been using the English Campus and see how our platform could be integrated into your course syllabus.

CASE STUDY UNIVERSITY: UNIVERSIDAD LATINOAMERICANA

Maria Elena González García, English Teacher

The Universidad Latinoamericana has been dedicated to providing young adults with a professional, first level education for over 36 years. In August 2008, the ULA joined Apollo Global, and since then has evolved into a leading institution.

How long have you been using Macmillan English Campus, and how do you use it?

The English Campus was incorporated into ULA's Academic English Programme - English Pass - Tu pase al mundo internacional del trabajo – in August 2011. A 6-level programme was designed to reach a B1+ level and students obtain the TOEIC certification. We've also created our own language exams for all levels inside the English Campus. I'm proud to say that it is the first language programme of this kind at ULA.

How has Macmillan English Campus helped your institution, your teachers and your students?

The majority of our students have shown enthusiasm and great interest for e-learning and enjoy having so many Campus resources at their fingertips, for example through the news items, the videos, and pronunciation exercises. As a teacher, I can provide my students with supplementary materials and see to their individual linguistic needs.

Enable students to work collaboratively by creating shared projects through the myPAD area of Culture World.
