for 21st century education?*

Upskill yourself with NEP 2020 aligned professional development courses

Teacher quality is the most important determinant of student learning. Teachers require regular infusion of techniques and knowledge to stay on top of their profession. The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 brings a fresh outlook on teaching-learning through emphasis on experiential learning, art integration and learner centricity. To develop a capable cadre of teachers ready to adapt to new learner centric methodologies, Macmillan Education offers interactive online courses aligned to NEP 2020. These courses are designed to equip teachers to improve students' understanding of concepts and can be a part of the 50 hours of professional development for teachers, mentioned in NEP 2020.

Juggling multiple tasks can be time-consuming. Thankfully, your personal development doesn't have to be.
